Body Of Brooke Hart Found; His Murderers Are Hanged By Mob

A mob of 5000, fired to frenzy yesterday by the finding of Brooke Hart's body on the Alameda mud flats, broke into the county jail at San Jose last night, braved tear gas and the leveled guns of jailers and sheriff's deputies, seized John M. Holmes and Thomas H. Thurmond, self confessed kidnappers and murderers of Hart, and dragging them from their cells through streets with kicks and clubbings, finally stripped their bloody bodies and hanged them to a tree in St. James park.

The attack on the jail was made shortly before 11 o'clock last night. Sheriff Emig stood off the mob for a few minutes by the use of tear gas, but when that gave out the mob began to enter the jail. He phoned for reserves and more tear gas to San Francisco and declared if they did not arrive soon his prisoners would be gone.

Governor Rolph earlier in the day stated that he would not send the state troops to protect the two murderers. He declared it was the sheriff's job.

Behind drawn blinds and locked doors in their colonial mansion in San Jose, the father and mother, brother and sisters of Brooke Hart, murdered boy, yesterday drank the last dregs of their cup of bitterness. Only a few intimate friends have been admitted to comfort the famly in their overwhelming grief. Till the last they prayed that the murder confession of the kidnapers might prove false, that somehow, someway, that bright fair, son and brother had survived. Yesterday even this desperate hope fled. The body ,unrecognizable was found by duck hunters wloating over the mud flats of the lower Alameda shore.

PANTLESS DRIVER LOSES CAR, MOUNTAIN AIR OR DEW, WHICH?

CAMPTONVILLE, Nov. 27.—A bewildered traveler who had lost both his pants and his automobile spent an evening last week wandering on the highway near here. The traveler, whose name is unknown ,with a companion, stopped a local car and asked if they had noticed their automobile any place along the highway; he had lost it and had no idea where it was. He had also lost his pants, and was clad in his underwear. He finally reached the Log Cabin, where he obtained more clothing, and the next morning William A. Lang, proprietor of the Lang Garage found the car, off the grade, about half a mile south of town; fortunately the car was not damaged much. How it all happened is not known, whether it was mountain "dew or mountain air" but the mountains were too much for him.

INDIAN SPRINGS SHIPS CARLOAD OF TOMATOES

Sixty carloads of tomatoes have been shipped from the Markwell district of the thermal belt along the McCourtney Road near Indian Springs, so far this season. Good yields are reported from the Phillips Glyps, and adjoining ranches.

Tomato raising has been successfully carried on in the Spencerville section in Western Nevada county for several years. The tomatoes are picked as soon as they turn a whitish green and are carefully wrapped in tissue paper, packed in boxes and shipped to the eastern markets. As soon as they are brought to the light they immediately turn red.

The new 'Novice' course of the Nevada City-Grass Valley Ski Club was practically finished yesterday. The new runway is about 150 yards long and from fifty to one hundred feet wide. Mr. and Mrs. Max Lantz, who will be the caretakers at the club house this year, have already taken up their residence there and are rapidly getting the place in first class shape for the winter season.

The Alpha Hardware Company furnished a truck, and a load of oak chunks was hauled to the club house. This was a donation by Frank Peri.

The members of the club who spent Sunday in working on the new course cutting out brush and timber and burning the refuse, were: W. A. Carlson, Antone Rore, Joe O'Neill, J. C. McGinnis, Ellis Clark, Max Lantz, Cameron Larsen, and M. D. Coughlin.

PAYROLLS SHOW GAIN IN STATE

Encouraging gains in several major factors of California business in October over the like month a year ago, offsetting the seasonal decline from month to month this year, are reported in the November issue of the Bank of America's Business Review. The bank's preliminary October Index of Far Western business, standing at 58.4,represented a gain of 8½ over the all time low of 53.8 in March 1933. The index, based on weighted and seasonally adjusted carloadings, power production, and bank debits of seven Far Western states, decreased, 2.8 points form the September 1933 revised Index.

The number of employed in California manufacturing industries during October was 24.6 per cent above October 1932, while payrolls showed an increase of 15.1 per cent over the same 1932 month. Although employment and payrolls in California manufacturing industries last month were below September, the month of October was the fifth consecutive month in which employment has gained over the corresponding 1932 periods and the fourth consecutive month in which payrolls have shown increase. Marked improvement in business conditions in the Far West is indicated by the decline in the number of business failures during the first three quarters of 1933 in the Twelfth Federal Reserve District, where the number of failures was 30 per cent below the number in the corresponding nine months of 1932.

SACK OF PENNIES PAYS FOOTBALL BET

Four hundred pennies, 20 dimes and 20 nickels paid a big game bet this morning. Robert Tharp deputy district attorney, staunch son of the Golden Bear, paid this weighty pile of coins this morning to Arthur Hoge, whose Alma Mater is a red Stanford Indian.

All this miscellaneous assortment Jimmy taxes were dumped into a heavy canvas money bag and then closed with a lead seal and wire, so that Cardinal winner will have a fine time pocketing that seven bucks he won on the Standford team's victorious turning back of the big bad bear on Saturday.

Nevada City folks back from the big game declare it was the finest gridiron battle they ever witnessed. Breath taking thrills one after another gripped the big audience of eighty thousand wildly cheering collegiate partisans. The cohorts of rooters rooted, the great bands of colorful musicians played, and the youthful titans on the gridiron did their mightiest, Stanford to win by 7 to 3.

NRA COMPLIANCE DIRECTOR FINDS CODES OBEYED

Public response to his efforts to secure immediate compliance with Approved Codes of Fair Competition has been highly satisfactory, according to E. Tilden Mattox, District Compliance Director, in a statement issued today.

In his first two weeks as District Compliance Director, Mattox has received 76 complaints of violations; these involve 18 different industries and trades that are now operating under approved codes of fair competition. The majority of these complaints have already been adjusted and establisments have complied with their codes provisions where violations were found to have existed. More serious cases will be forwarded to Washington for further action. It is possible that serious disciplinary steps may be taken by the Administration in some of the latter cases, where the violations are of a continuing nature.

Persons who desire to make complaints should make an effort to present the facts fully and honestly. Every effort will be made to prevent establishments from being unjustly harassed or annoyed by reports coming from cranks and disgruntled complaints. The public may be assured, however, that immediate action may be expected on complaints that are made in good faith.

NEEDED—MIDDLE OF THE ROADERS

The Houston Post remarks editorially that "unfortunately, there are too many of two kinds of people—congenital pessimists and inherent optimists—and both, in the extremity of their opinion, have been profoundly impressed by theN. R. A." The natural consequence of such extreme opinion is described as "a sour waggnig of heads by the chronic crepe hangers and a lot of joyful rope skipping by the children of sweetness and light, both being premature."

"To those who neither considered the new deal damned at the outset nor felt it was the millennium" the Post declares there is "much for assurance and satisfaction" and counsels sober-thinking people to "stop and take stock." Reports from thoroughly reliable sources, which none has denied, show very conclusively "neither a dark promise that the country is headed for the abyss nor a bright promise that a new Golden Age will dawn with the morrow, but there is sufficient indication of ultimate recovery to moderate the fallacious opinions of the extremists, so that they may share with the average American a spirit of incraesed faith."

It summarizes that upwards of 4,000,000 men have been returned to living wage; that total pay rools in reporting factories increased from $1,156,000,000 last March to $1,468,000,000 in September, a rise of about 30 per cent. Prices have risen 12 per cent, thus reducing the net wage raise to 18 per cent. An increase of 27.9 per cent in the employment index from a year ago is of record, with an attendant rise of 43 per cent in factory pay rolls, which amounts to $40,000,000 more in weekly envelopes. Automobile sales increased 150 per cent, and other increases in commodity consumption were: Wool, 210 per cent; cotton, 115 per cent; pig iron, 245 per cent. Business failures fell from 503 in the last week of October 1932 to 257 for the last week of October 1933, compared with the 5-year average of 457 per week for the period 1928-1932. And farm prices in October and early November are steadily ascending, wheat being around 81 cents from 45 cents a year ago. In the same period cotton has come up from 6.4 to 9.9, oats from 26 to 46, rye from 47 to 80, with a crop shortage due.

"There you have a picture of progressive recovery, slow but steady," says the Post, and adds: "Recall what the President said: "Our troubles will not be over tomorrow, but we are on our way." What is needed is not extremists either ballyhoo boys or mourners at the national bier, but Americans with patience, forever firm in the faith.

WEEKLY COMMENT

By CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN

And so on the fast wings of time we arrive at another Thanksgiving Day, many fine thoughts will come from those who make it a business to think. To some it will be just another day for feasting and drinking.

Utopia to a seven year old boy seems to consist of unlimited quantities of wagons, skates, bicycles, skies, long cement hills where there are no automobiles to bother, unlimited quantites of different kinds of pie, no codliver oil, no don'ts on any pastime, bushels and bushels of candy and with no restrictions on the quantity eaten, Santa Claus visits at least six times each year and each time prepared to unload every toy and trick imaginable. To learn that restriction is necessary seems the irony of fate and something should be done about it.

Came two beautiful prophlactic tooth brushes to the Mrs. and myself through the mail, as a token for a little favor we did for this company.

It is understandable that persons of low mentality could murder either in passion or premaditatively. It is a peculiar condition of mind when educated people such as Dr. Wynkoop confess to murder and especially of one she was supposed to love. Will this sort of insanity sometime in the far future make these crimes common or will the mind become so advanced in thought that all such heinous crimes will not even be thought of?

Won't it be wonderful if Germany and France have a conference and come to some real lasting peace agreement which will keep them forever out of war? Well we are living in a strange age and anything may happen.

Some of the boys are lining up with our President in the controversy over the money policy. Wall Street never will like any policy but their own, and, listen while I offer this opinion for what it is worth, of course don't say a word about it. I think that a former Governor of New York and a one time presidential nominee, is showing his adherance to his maker, Wall Street.

Although there seems to be no doubt that the alleged kidnappers and murderers of Hart deserve to die for their vile deed, nevertheless I do not personally feel that lynching is a civilized expedient.

Bank debits in 27 cities in the District in October, totaling $1,900,469,000, were 4.4 per cent above the total for October 1932, making the fifth consecutive month in which consistent increases have been shown.

Retail sales, for the first time since June, showed a decline in dollar volume during October, but building permits indicated a definite advancement in construction with 34 per cent gain over September 1933 and October 1932.

Agricultural prices, as indicated by 24 California products, last month held approximately within one point of the September index at 66.8 per cent of the July 1910-June 1915 average, a level 18 per cent higher than the all time low registered last April.

Sixth Graders Render Excellent Program

The music room of the Washington grammar school was crowded Friday afternoon as the Sixth grade children, with Mrs. Ray Davis as class leader, put on a splendid performance.

The tablean, with Gertrude Deason as Red Cross Nurse, Jim White, a soldier; Dennis Coughlan, a Marine; Norman Kopp, a sailor; followed by a doctor and two attendants while the class sang, "Rose of No Man's Land," was carried out as if the pupils were veteran thespians and was most impressive.

Then came the Fashion Show, composed of boys and girls taking parts of famous actors and actresses with Jimmie Nankervis, the director as a Frenchman, proved so realistic that they were clapped back for a review.

Max Bandy, who took lessons in tap dancing in San Francisco, delighted the audience with his exhibition of fancy steps.

The ever popular Arizona Wranglers led by Craig Davies with harmonica, was heartily applauded.

The closing song by the whole class, with a tableau showing John Alden and Priscilla standing in a picture frame sounded a Thanksgiving note.

The sixth grade again carried off the banner with the most mothers in attendannce.

The second Friday in December will be first graders program, with Mrs. Buffington as class leader.

Plans are going forward for the P. T. A. card party to be held December 12 in Brand's Studio.
